City Accepts New Building—School Will Open Monday

In the presence of school directors and city officials the new Gentilly Terrace School building was accepted Saturday morning and formally turned over to the school authorities. The school will open Monday with approximately seventy-five pupils in attendance. It is a frame building of handsome design, in keeping with the many pretty homes in the terrace reservation. Commissioner Lafaye, City Architect Christy, Assistant City Engineer Willis, Directors Wegmann and Buckley, City Librarian Gill, Inspector J. M. Gore and a few interested citizens were present at the formal acceptance of the building.
